

I do not think the banks should have the right to our telephone numbers. If we do business with them they should already have our numbers. You are taking away our rights.